FILES PETITION TO REVOKE SEWARD'S SALOON LICENSE

James E. Naden Requests it to Recall
Because of Unlawful Methods Used.

COMMISSIONERS TO HEAR IT

Affidavit Sets Forth Four Reasons
For Wishing Suspension of Last Licence Issued.

THE APPLICANT'S FALSE OATH

Pointed Out he Had Not Lived in the County 6 Months When he Made Application.

A petition to cancel and revoke the saloon license held by Basil Seward was filed in the auditor's office late this afternoon by James E. Naden, printer and newspaper publisher. Charles Alger gives surety for two hundred dollars as required by law. The commissioners were in session this afternoon awarding contracts for supplies and it was expected that they would set a date for a hearing on the petition as soon as they finished the other business.

The affiant, James E. Naden, gives four reasons why the license held by Basil Seward should be recalled and revoked by the commissioners.

In the first paragraph he asserts that Basil Seward was not a resident of Rush county the required length of time before making application for a liquor license. The law states he shall reside in the county six months previous to making the application.

In the second place Mr. Naden declares that Seward made four false statements in making application for a license. The false statements are recited and are practically the same as those given in detail in the Daily Republican of Tuesday.

In the third place the affiant asserts that Rushville is not entitled to another saloon under the law. He states that under the provisions of the Proctor act for determining population the population of Rushville is 6,500, 500 less than 7,000. He points out that the commissioners limited the saloons in Rushville to one for every thousand which means six saloons.

In the fourth paragraph the affiant states that the law to determine the population for the purpose of locating saloons "is invalid, illegal and void in so far as the same fixes a basis for determining the population of cities. The basis is unnatural, artificial, unfair and inequitable to the residents of townships outside of the cities, this said provision for determining the population of cities is therefore void and unconstitutional." The affiant filed the bond and surety with the petition and agrees to pay the costs and charges of the action to Seward if the license is not suspended or revoked.

RETIRES FROM THE MONUMENT TRADE

Frank Schrichte Sells His Interest in Old Established Business to Brothers, Tony and Will.

BUYS UP INTEREST IN ROOM

Frank Schrichte, son of J. B. Schrichte, who was killed recently by a switch engine in Hamilton, Ohio, has sold his interest in the old established monument business formerly conducted by his father and now by his brothers and will soon retire from the business. He will be employed at the shop for some time, but eventually intends to get clear out of the business. He sold his interest in the business to his brothers, Anthony and William, who are now proprietors. He and his brother Edward, who is engaged in the tailoring business in Indianapolis, disposed of their share of the real estate where the monument works is located, to their brothers. Edward, Anthony and William sold their interest in the Main street business room to Frank for nine thousand dollars.

SANTA CLAUS FUND BOUNDS WITH AID OF PALACE MOTION PICTURE BENEFIT

Palace Benefit Show . . . 17.00
Children's Friend . . . 1.00
True Blue Club of St. Paul M.
E. church . . . 2.50
Total . . . $71.85

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund went up by leaps and bounds today, thanks to the money realized on the Palace motion picture benefit show last night. Seventeen dollars for the fund was made on the show last night.

The total proceeds of the show were $31.50. The regular running expenses amounted to $14.50, leaving a balance of $17 which it was agreed should be contributed to the fund.

Much of the success of the show was due to the Jackson school orchestra of youngsters which attracted many people to the show. The boys and girls were loudly applauded at each show and it is the consensus of opinion that the youngsters made a distinct hit at their first appearance in public. No member of the orchestra is over thirteen years of age and some of them are younger than that.

There was a lack of children's contributions today but it is thought that the fund will be helped much by donations of this sort next week.

Only eight more days remain until the fund will be closed. It is still hoped that the total for the year will reach that made last year.

HONOR COMES TO SAMUEL TRABUE

Local Man is Commissioned as Aid-de-Camp on Staff of Major General Arthur Stobbert.

HIGHEST U. R. K. OF P. OFFICER

Four Years Mr. Trabue is Chaplain of Third Regiment—Honor to Local Company.

Samuel L. Trabue, an attorney of this city, for four years chaplain on the staff of Col. Phelps, commander of the third regiment, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, has been commissioned as Aid-de-Camp on the staff of Major General Arthur Stobbert of Minneapolis, Minn., commanding the Uniform Rank companies of the world.

Mr. Trabue brought much honor to Ivy Company No. 35 of this city, of which he is a member, by being appointed chaplain of the third regiment four years ago, but the late appointment brings additional honor to the local company. It comes wholly unexpected to both Mr. Trabue and to the company.

Some time ago Mr. Trabue was apprised of the fact that he would receive an appointment on the staff of the highest-commanding officer in the Uniform Rank. This was announced at the time, but nothing very definite was known about the appointment until Mr. Trabue received his commission.

Since the first announcement of the appointment there has been opinions expressed here that the duties of the commission would take Mr. Trabue out of the city, but this is not the case. He will officiate as Aid-de-Camp on Gen. Stobbert's staff during national encampments of the Uniform Rank and at other times when the officials are gathered together. The next annual encampment will be held at Ft. Worth, Texas, in all probability.

The appointment came as somewhat of a surprise to Mr. Trabue. He has met Gen. Stobbert at national encampments and has had some few conversations with him, but at those times he did not think that the few words would lead to him being given the honor that he has.

The local company of the Uniform Rank has achieved much. During most of the life of the company it has been represented on the regimental staff. About six years ago the local company won first prize at the national encampment held at Louisville, Ky. It has won several State prizes in recent years.

W. E. Harton of near Rushville is president of the association.

COURT GRANTS NEW TRIAL Dillon Damage Suit Will be Heard a Second Time

Mrs. O. P. Dillon was granted a new trial yesterday in the Marion county Superior court in the $10,000 damage suit against the C. H. & D. railway for the death of her husband. In the first hearing the court found for the defendant. Local attorneys assert that the granting of a new trial looks favorable to Mrs. Dillon. The case is based on the death of Dr. O. P. Dillon, which was caused by a C. H. & D. passenger train hitting the auto in which he was in, at the Main street crossing in this city.

AFRICAN GONGAY RUNS AT LARGE

It is Seen Near Clarksburg in T. Mc-
Cracken's Woods and Natives
Are Terror Stricken.

$100 REWARD FOR CAPTURE
Stories of Blind Tigers and Howling
Wolves Are Heard But Gongay is a New Species.

Stories of blind tigers, howling wolves, screeching panthers and deadly foreign snake terrorizing the people have come from several communities in Indiana from time to time but it was left to DeCATUR county to discover a new terror.

A correspondent at St. Paul says an African gongay is loose in the wilds around Clarksburg and is causing terror to the people of that community.

The gongay has never been described. Its name has been omitted from animal books and it was never discovered by T. Roosevelt in his famous African hunt. It is believed to be a native of DeCATUR county and to have originated there.

In the hopes of capturing the animal, Hayes Linville of that place, has caused the following notice to be inserted in the Clarksburg Bi-Weekly Budget:

$100 REWARD!

For the capture of the African gongay now loose in T. McCracken's woods!

DEAD OR ALIVE.

This animal has been seen by James Halsey and Charles Bohannon, both of whom were treed by it while hunting, about a week ago, and were rescued the next morning by Hayes Linville. For further information concerning this offer see Hayes Linville, Clarksburg, Ind.

Mr. Linville does not describe the gongay, and therefore its particular class in the African wild beast world can not be given. Who lost the gongay is not known.

IN POLICE COURT.

W. C. Hines appeared before Mayor Black this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of public intoxication. He was fined one dollar and costs. Hines was arrested last evening by Chief of Police McAllister.

CASE IS COMPROMISED.

The case of Matthews against the Big Four railroad for $319 damages was compromised in the circuit court today immediately after the jury had been empaneled. The defendant was given one hundred dollars.

DEATH REMOVES PROMINENT MAN

T. A. Craig, One of City's Progressive Citizens, Succumbs After Illness of Two Months.

FUNERAL SATURDAY MORNING

A Widow and Three Children Survive
Also Leaves One Brother and Five Sisters.

The funeral services of T. A. Craig who died yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at his home in North Harrison street, will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Unitarian Presbyterian church, conducted by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Wylie and the Rev. J. B. Meacham. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

The death of Mr. Craig removes one of Rushville's most progressive citizens and although expected, came as a great shock to his many friends. He had been ill about two months, suffering from cancer. Mr. Craig was thirty-seven years old, being born August 1, 1874, in Sligo, Pennsylvania. He came to this city in the fall of 1903 to accept the position of science teacher in the local high school. This position he held until Thanksgiving of the following year. While a professor in the high school Mr. Craig gained the friendship of the entire student body and was an efficient instructor.

He gave up his school work to enter the insurance business which profession he followed until he was taken ill. Last spring Mr. Craig became identified with the Redpath-Slayton Lyceum Bureau of Chicago, which position he held at the time of his death. Mr. Craig was an active worker in the Rush County Chautauqua and was secretary of the organization from the time it was first formed up until last fall.

Mr. Craig was a singer of considerable mention and at various times had directed several musical organizations.

MRS. CLARA MATNEY ASKS FOR $5,000

Files Suit For Divorce From Elijah Matney—Alleges Cruel and Inhuman Treatment.

NAMES A 14 YEAR-OLD GIRL

Mrs. Clara Matney, through her attorneys, Megee and Kiplinger, filed suit for divorce today from her husband, Elijah Matney. Mrs. Matney asks $5000 alimony. The Matneys live in Noble township and were married in 1879, and separated last Saturday. In the complaint Mrs. Matney alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and failure to provide. She states that in the last five years, he has not given her over $10 with which to buy clothes.

Mrs. Matney further states that he has been a spendthrift and a squanderer and spent the income of 53 acres of land on himself. Mrs. Matney charges that he had illicit relations with a fourteen-year-old girl. The girl's name is left blank in the complaint. She sets forth that he is worth $7000 and asks $5000 as alimony. The case is set for the first of the February term of court. Mr. Matney advertised today in local newspapers that he would not be responsible for any debts contracted by Mrs. Matney.

izations. He had directed the choirs of the United Presbyterian St. Paul M. E. and First Presbyterian churches. It was while he was connected with the local schools that he organized the first girls' glee club. Mr. Craig was also director in the Farmers Trust Company.

A widow and three children, Kenneth A., John Lowell and Jean Frances, survive. He also leaves one brother, W. R. Craig, and five sisters, Mrs. Jane McAuley, Mrs. J. H. Newall, Miss Tillie Craig, Miss Elizabeth H. Craig and Miss Anna B. Craig, all of Pennsylvania.

Friends may view the remains tomorrow afternoon from 2:30 o'clock until 8 o'clock.

GLAD RUSHVILLE HAS NEW STATION

Dr. Wade of Georgia Writes John S.
Abercrombie That C. H. & D.
Depot is Black Eye.

COMPARES TO GEORGIA TOWNS

John S. Abercrombie received a letter from Dr. Wade of Georgia, this morning in which he says anent the new C. H. & D. depot: "I have often thought what a disgrace that depot at Rushville is and what a black eye it gives your beautiful city. You have been to a great many little country towns in Georgia around Augusta and you never saw as sorry a depot in any of them as there is at Rushville."

Doctor Wade reports times bad for the planters because the latter are getting nothing (9c) for their cotton. That is $20 a bale less than last year, and he predicts there will not be a very large crop planted in 1912.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO COLORED WOMAN

Mrs. Martha Stewart Succumbs to Injuries at Her Home in North Maple Street.

TIME OF FUNERAL NOT KNOWN

Mrs. Martha Stewart, wife of Howard Stewart, the aged colored woman who was burned Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Carmichael in North Main street while attempting to light a fire in a stove with coal oil, died this morning at eight o'clock at her home in North Maple street. The injuries were such that recovery was doubtful and her death was expected.

Mrs. Stewart was well known, having lived here for over twenty years. She was born in slavery in Kentucky, and although her exact age is not known, it is said she was sixty-two or sixty-three years old. After the Civil war she lived for a time in Hannibal, Mo., and then came to this city where she had since lived.

Her many friends were shocked to hear of the accident and the untimely end. Besides her husband, Mrs. Stewart is survived by one brother, John Caesar of Quincy, Mo., one half brother, Reuben Lawrence of St. Louis, Mo. and one half-sister, Mrs. Lucy Stull of Kentucky.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MUCH FODDER SHREDDED.

An unusually large crop of fodder is now being shredded due to the scarcity of hay. Corn husking is nearing completion. The market price for corn is higher now than it has been for years at this time. Some predict that corn will be 80 cents a bushel by next spring.

RANKS WELL AS FARMING COUNTY

Census Bureau Statistics Reveal That
Rush County Raises 4,268,526
Bushels of Corn in Year.

ONLY 3 COUNTIES AHEAD OF IT

Few Counties Show Greater Per Cent of Increase in Land Values in Ten Years.

STATISTICS PROVE THEORY

Tendency is For Farmers to Retire and to Rent Farms or Employ Tenants.

It is a notable fact that the per cent of increase in farm land values in the last ten years in Rush county is larger than that of any other county in the Sixth district or in the eastern part of Indiana for that matter, according to a statistical report issued by the United States census bureau.

The report shows further that corn is by far the principal crop raised in Rush county. Statistics given for the year 1909 show that 4,268,526 bushels were raised that year off of 80,287 acres which is an average of 53.19 bushels to the acre.

Only three other counties in the State raised more corn in 1909 than did Rush county. They were Tippecanoe, 4,692,449; Montgomery, 4,441,397; and Crawford, 4,718,472. Madison county is fifth in the production of corn, raising 4,157,170 bushels in 1909, Rush county being fourth.

The report shows that the per cent of increase in this county from 1900 to 1910 was 92.4, while the nearest county to Rush in the Sixth district, in per cent of increase in farm land values in the last ten years is Shelby county, with a per cent of increase of 91.6.

Other counties in the Sixth district and their per cent of increase as noted by the report are Fayette, 83.4; Franklin, 69.2; Hancock, 87.5; Henry, 90.8; Union, 65.4 and Wayne, 70.2. DeCATUR, although not now in the Sixth district, is an adjoining county and the per cent of increase there in the last ten years is 79.1.

It is also a fact worthy of mention that there are not many of the ninety-two counties in the whole State which excelled Rush county in this respect in the last ten years. Twenty-five of the ninety-two had a greater per cent of increase. An increase of 123.4 per cent is noted in the case of Clinton county, which is located in a rich farming district. Frankfort is the county seat. There are only fifteen counties in which farm land values were more than doubled in the period of ten years covered by the report.

Tables two and three of the report just issued by the census bureau gives statistics on number, acreage and value of farms, and color and nativity of farmers, classified by tenure in 1910 and in regard to farm expenses and principal crops in 1909.

In Rush county, which is the only one of interest here except by use of comparison, there were in 1910, 1,258 farms operated by owners. In 1900 there were 1,384. It is shown that in 1910 58.7 per cent. of the farms in the county were run by owners while in 1900 61 per cent. were run by owners.

In 1910 the land in farms run by owners was 143,845 acres and 125,206 acres of this was improved which means that 18,639 acres is unimproved. It is noted in the report that there was 107,531 acres of land in farms in Rush county operated by owners.

Washington is full of politics. Our statesmen are doing their presidential shopping early.

Shady Bend, Kan., wants to change its name on account of the recent tarring party, but tar was always shady.

Many citizens show their familiarity with the principle of the conservation of forces, by giving their wives for a Christmas present something they would soon have to buy anyway for household use.

The Democrats will make some grand speeches for a tariff for revenue only, and will then quietly vote for bigger appropriations, each one of which makes necessary an increase in the height of the tariff wall.

The complaint is frequently made that there are no ruins in this country to attract tourists. But most of our graft ridden cities are putting up bridges that promise to supply this demand in a few years.

Any man who ever got up on a summer night to slap a mosquito can understand the trouble Italy is having with those slippery Arabs, with the difference that it costs Italy $2,500,000 a day.

The United States is said to be the only country that does not limit the amount of explosives that can be discharged in a mine. Our legislators don't believe in doing any work that can be laid off on Divine Providence.

In view of the tense diplomatic situation in Europe, we hope no small boy will discharge any rocks at a neighbor's cat on the back yard fence for there is no telling what might follow such an act of aggression.

The Socialists have long been making strenuous efforts to annex the Federation of Labor, and it may be regarded as certain that they will not cease now that Gompers and his radical methods have fallen in disrepute.

Another car load of Ford cars will arrive at the Uwanta garage the last of this or first of next week. 237t1

Santa Claus has to take so much time now fixing himself up with asbestos whiskers and other modern improvements, that he may not get around to make the usual number of gifts.

The Powers clearly feel that when Mr. Shuster was permitted to go to Persia and put funds in the treasury, instead of taking them out and putting them in his own pocket, a dangerous precedent was created.

Wall street note: The Lone Forks, Ark., Blotter having printed an editorial headed "Be Honest," the bears seized the opportunity to make a concerted attack on the market and prices crumbled rapidly.

Two more trusts are to be dealt with by the United States courts. These poor little corporations are having a time of it these days and feel like quoting the old prayer, "God help the rich; the poor can take care of themselves."

State Chairman Lee talks about the partisan sentiment in Indiana as if he had a grudge against somebody, says the Muncie Herald. It is the general consensus that Mr. Lee's dissatisfaction is because of the fact that he did not receive from President Taft the lucrative appointment he coveted.

Buy Early!

Putting off today what you can do tomorrow is said to be a very poor policy even in Christmas shopping.

No doubt enchanted and moved in the heat of speech before a crowd of suffragettes to make assertions that he would not consider in his ordinary calm state of mind, Mayor Lew Shauk of Indianapolis promised the suffragettes in Indianapolis the right to name a woman to hold down his office when he left for a few days. Now he's hedging.

Perhaps it's well. Try to think what would happen if he made his offer good. She might turn the next boxing match into a tea party.

Don't blame a man for wearing whiskers. He knows what the original looks like when it smiles back from a mirror and you don't.

It has always pained us to observe that whenever the baby is ugly there is always some one who remarks that it resembles its father so much.

They will all have to step some to hang it on Rush county, eh?

Some one has said that Rip Van Winkle was the first tramp. But consider the precedent he set!

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

"What Shall we do to be Saved?"
The question that Hon. J. K. Gowdy sent to the Republican love feast at Rushville a few weeks ago, "What shall we do to be saved?" is a very pertinent question for Republicans to be considering at this time.

While this is a question of vital importance to the party in Indiana, it seems to me, it is not a very difficult one to answer.

The "handwriting is on the wall" and it is so plain that it takes neither a sage nor a prophet to read and interpret it. There are just two live progressive political questions before the people of Indiana today. And these two questions are so live and have grown into such importance with the people that the fate of the Republican party in our State in next year's campaign depends entirely on the stand the party takes on them.

These questions are: First, shall Indiana continue to have open saloons and her politics be controlled by saloon people and brewery bosses? And, second, shall the women of Indiana be given the right to vote? Of course neither of these questions are new. They have both often been before the people. They are like Banco's ghost, they will not down. Every time these questions have come up they have gained new strength until now they are the all important questions of the day.

The majority of people have no use for a political party and will not continue to support one, that does not work to give them what they want in the way of legislation and good government. If the leaders of the Republican party will, in no doubtful way, assure the good people of Indiana that they intend to give them what they want, there will be no doubt about the result when they come to the polls.

There can be no doubt about what the moral and progressive people in the different political parties want on either of these questions. And if the Republican party should prove to be too "hide-bound" to give them what they ask, then a new party will have to.

If straws show which way the wind blows, then such a cyclone of enthusiasm and eloquence as was gathered together at Indianapolis a few days ago ought to convince any one of how strong and growing the sentiment against the saloon is.

The fact is there are thousands of people in Indiana in both the old parties who will demand that the local option law, with a few improvements, be put back on the statute books and that we be given State-wide prohibition as soon as it can be done, either by an amendment to the present constitution or by a new one. Indiana all "dry" will be the cry.

This question has been so completely threshed over and all the arguments against it so repeatedly answered that now, but few people have the nerve to openly oppose it, except those who are in some way financially interested in the business and those who want the saloons for their own convenience.

On this question of making Indiana dry, the Republican party does not dare to be timid or have "cold feet."

As to the woman's suffrage question, personally, I have always been rather indifferent. If women wanted to vote I was always willing that they should. But now, as never before, we need their help.

Every phase of this subject has also been repeatedly gone over and threshed out, until we have learned that the arguments that the leaders of this cause put forth in support of their request can neither be answered by logic or reason, nor disproven by the results where it has been tried. It is true that all women do not care to vote, but those who do and especially the leaders in this great cause, stick to their purpose with a determination and devotion that can neither be downed nor put off much longer.

As there is neither a moral nor an economic reason why the women of Indiana should not vote, it would surely be much better for the Republican party to keep in the line of progress on this question and be gallant enough to give the women what they want, and are demanding, and thus, secure their good will and co-operation, than to try to put off or down that which is bound to come sooner or later.

By championing these two causes and taking up the slogans "Indiana all dry" and "let the women vote," of course the party would lose something, but it would be mostly the tough saloon element of which any respectable party might well be ashamed to claim. And in return the Republican party would gain the enthusiastic support of a great host of the very best class of citizens of the other political parties. Yours truly, SAM SAPLINGTON.

BUTLER COUNTY IN OHIO SOLD

We published in this paper a few days ago that Franklin County had been sold to the well known firm of G. & H. Walters, of Brookville. This sale was made some three weeks ago. Since that time Walter Bros. have taken orders for Gates, Farm Rights and Fixtures to the amount of over $400.00. They then came to the conclusion that if one County was a GOOD INVESTMENT, two would be a BETTER ONE. Consequently last Thursday our Mr. Derrickson sold Walter Bros., the county of Butler in Ohio, which joins Franklin County. G. & H. Walters are successful business men and don't very often place their money wrong. In this case they will make at least $5.00 for every $1.00 invested. We take pleasure in referring anyone looking for a good payable business to the above named firm.

MANILLA STORE IS SOLD TO NEW FIRM

Clyde Whisman of Manilla and S. W. Jarvis of Tipton Buy John & Whisman Place.

FORMER PARTNER, SUICIDE

The general merchandise store operated for the past few years at Manilla by George Whisman and the late Clark John, who committed suicide in the store a few weeks ago, has been sold to S. W. Jarvis of Tipton and Clyde Whisman, a son of George Whisman. The stock of goods was invoiced and the new firm took charge of the store yesterday. The firm name will be Jarvis & Whisman. The branch store that was operated at Rays Crossing by the firm of John & Whisman has been closed and the stock of goods will be transferred to the Manilla store.

Mr. Jarvis has been with the Kokomo Steel & Wire Company for the past seven years and Clyde Whisman has been employed as a clerk and bookkeeper at the Manilla store for the past few years and the experience they have had in the business world should enable them easily to make a success of the business.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Human Sacrifice" is the title of a Reliance film at the Palace tonight. The picture tells a dramatic story, the scenes of which are laid in Egypt. It is one of the Reliance company's best productions and is acted out in detail as are all of their pictures. The other picture is entitled "Foolhead's Removal." It is a comedy by the Itala company. The "Foolhead" pictures have long been favorites here and in this film "Foolhead" is shown to advantage. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Portola will have a complete change of program tonight for the second Pocahontas benefit. Large crowds packed the theater last night and the program tonight is expected to prove as equally attractive. "The Mission Wail" is a Melies picture, telling a story of California. The second picture is one of unusual interest and is a Selig production, "Maud Muller." It is taken from the dramatization of Whittier's immortal poem. The picture is said to be a masterpiece. The principal roles are taken by Miss Kathryn Williams and Charles Clary, two well known motion picture artists. "Too Many Burglars" is a Biograph comedy. Special music will again be the feature.

The Princess offers a program of two good pictures tonight. "Italian Blood" is a dramatic story of jealousy and shows the result of indifference. "The Summer Girl" is an Edison comedy. It tells of the fight for the hand of a girl that two strangers meet at a summer resort. Some very comical situations are shown and ends with one of the men winning. Friday and Saturday nights the attraction will be the famous picture "Auld Lang Syne." The story is told in two reels and is a very dramatic picture.

"The Pink Lady," the most popular musical comedy of recent years will begin an engagement of one week, including matinees Wednesday and Saturday, on Monday evening, December 18, at English's opera house, Indianapolis. Messrs Klaw and Erlanger produced "The Pink Lady" just after the holidays and it has been playing to capacity audiences at the New Amsterdam theater in New York ever since. Scarcely a musical play in a generation has achieved such a pronounced success with the better class of theatergoers. Like all of Klaw and Erlanger's plays the production is made upon an artistic and elaborate scale and the company is one of the largest and best in musical comedy. The scenes are laid in or near Paris and incidentally the gowns are the latest word from Rue de la Paix. It is the sort of a musical comedy that comes along far too infrequently. Its story, based on the French farce, "The Satyr," is funny and well carried out, and gives the members of the cast ample opportunity to display their talents. Adaption was made by C. M. S. McEl Clellan and the music was composed by Ivan Caryll, the English composer, and is filled with gems of melody, lovely waltz movements and clever ensembles. The whole piece is a riot of fun from start to finish and this combination of real comedy and sterlingly popular music has of course a lot to do with the enthusiastic reception accorded "The Pink Lady" everywhere.

Rushville, Ind.

My Dear Sir:-

We have examined the report of the examination of the counts and records of your association recently made by State Building and loan examiner, Hon. John D. Williams.

It is a pleasure to report to you, that the report shows that the financial condition of your association is excellent and your accounts are correct.

Your officers are well and favorably known as to their ability and responsibility. The general policy of your association is conservative, honest and economical.

Your association pays three times as much interest as the Postal Savings Bank and with our excellent system of State examination under our new building and loan law, which we now have the same as provided for banks and trust companies and under your conservative management, there is no need of or room for, the postal savings bank in competition with your association.

No other financial institution known to our law can take their place and they should continue to be, the poor man's savings bank, and instrumentalities through which he may provide himself a home.

Building associations in their very nature are semi-philanthropic and are mutual for the benefit of all members. Such associations are the most economically conducted institutions in the world and the officers do not receive fancy salaries like the officers of many big corporations which are organized to exploit the people for their promoters.

Under your efficient and conservative management your association is as safe and sound as the most conservatively managed financial institution in the State.

After spending nearly a quarter of a century in the faithful, efficient and honest service of your stockholders, we take great pleasure in commending you for your honesty, efficiency and conservatism in the management of your association. We also desire to commend you for your efforts to help secure the passage of our splendid new building and loan law by the last legislature.

We will be pleased to render to your association at any time, the most cordial assistance that is possible for this department to grant.

Yours Truly,

W. H. O'BRIEN,
Auditor of State,
By G. H. HENDREN, Chief Clerk,
State Building and Loan Department.

"Yes," was the dazed assent. "Well, then— But come, he is waiting."

She was sufficiently unlike the usual Miss French to bewilder any one. Bailey dully followed her across the park, carrying his hat in his hand.

A short distance from the pavilion Emily stopped abruptly, turning a startled face to her companion. "Some one is there," she said. "Some one is speaking. I forgot that Uncle Ethan had gone out."

She heard Bailey catch his breath oddly. Her own pulses began to beat with heavy irregularity, as a few steps farther brought the two opposite the open arcade. There they halted, frozen.

In the place Emily had left, where all her feminine toys still lay, Mr. French was seated as one exhausted by the force of overmastering emotion; his hands clenched on the arms of the chair; his face drawn with passion. Opposite him stood Lestrangle, colorless and still as Emily had never back and he went down the terraces toward the gates. As Emily sank down on the bench by the pavilion door, Bailey brushed past her, running after the straight, lithe figure that went steadily on out of sight among the huge trees planted and tended by five generations of Frenches.

When the vistas of the park were empty, Emily slowly turned to face her uncle.

"You love David French?" he asked, his voice thin and harsh. "Yes," she answered. She had no need to ask if Lestrangle were meant. "He is married to some woman of the music halls."

"No." "How do you know? He has told you?"

She lifted to him the supercilious confidence of her glance, although nervous tremors shook her in wavelike succession.

"If he had been married, he would not have made me care for him. He has asked me to be his wife."

They were equally strange to each other in these new characters, and equally spent by emotion. Neither moving, they sat opposite each other in silence. So Bailey found them when he came back later, to take his massive stand in the doorway, his hands in his pockets and his strong jaw set.

"I think that things are kind of mixed up here, Mr. French," he stated grimly. "I guess I'm the one to straighten them out a bit; I've loved Mr. David from the time he was a kid and never saw him get a square deal yet. You asked him what he was doing here—I'll tell you; he is Lestrangle."

There is a degree of amazement which precludes speech; Mr. French looked back at his partner, mute.

"He is Lestrangle. He never meant you to know; he'd have left without your ever knowing, but for Miss Emily. I guess I don't need to remind you of what he's done; if it hadn't been for him we might have closed our doors some day. He understands the business as none of us back-number, old-fashioned ones do; he took hold and shook some life into it. We can make cars, but he can make people buy them. Advertising! Why, just that fool picture he drew on the back of a pad, one day, of a row of thermometers up to one hundred forty, with the sign 'Mercuries are at the top,' made more people notice."

Bailey cleared his throat. "He was always making people notice, and laughing while he did it. He's risked his neck on every course going, to bring our cars in first, he's lent his fame as a racing driver to help us along. And now everything is fixed the way we want, he's thrown out. What did he do it for? He thought he needed to square accounts with you, for being born, I suppose; so when he heard how things were going with us he came to me and offered his help. At least, that's what he said. I believe he came because he couldn't bear to see the old place go under."

There was a skin of blue silk swinging over the edge of the table. Mr. French picked it up and replaced it in Emily's work basket before replying.

"If this remarkable story is true," he began, accurately precise in accent.

"You don't need me to tell you it is," retorted Bailey. "You know what my new manager's been doing; why, you disliked him without seeing him, but you had to admit his good work. And I heard you talking about his allowance, Mr. French. He never touched it, not from the first; it piled up for six years. Last April, when we needed cash in a hurry, he drew it out and gave it to me to buy aluminum. When he left here first he drove a taxicab in New York city until he got into racing work and made Darling Lestrangle famous all over the continent. I guess it went pretty hard for a while; if he'd been the things you called him, he'd have gone to the devil alone in New York. But he didn't."

An oriole darted in one arcade and out again with a musical whirr of wings. The clink of glass and silver sounded from the house windows with a pleasant cheerfulness and suggestion of comfort and plenty.

"He made good," Bailey concluded, thoughtfully. "But it sounded queer to me to hear you tell him you didn't want him around because Mr. Dick took his place. I know, and Miss Emily knows, that Dick French was no use on earth for any place until Mr. David took him in hand and made him fit to live. That's all, I guess, that I had to say; I'll get back to work." He turned, but paused to glance around. "It's going to be pretty dull

There was that in his bearing, in the dignified carelessness of courtesy with which he saluted the other before turning to go, that checked even Ethan French. But as Lestrangle crossed the threshold of the little building, Emily ran from the thicket to meet him, her eyes a dark splendor in her white face, her hands outstretched.

"Not like this!" she panted. "Not without seeing me! Oh, I might have guessed—"

His vivid color and animation returned as he caught her to him, heedless of witnesses.

"You dare? My dear, my dear, not even a question? There is no one like you. Say, shall I take you now, or send Dick for you after the race?"

Mr. French exclaimed some inarticulate words, but neither heard him.

"Send Dick," Emily answered, her eyes on the gray eyes above her.

"Send Dick—I understand, I will come."

He kissed her once, then she drew at the factory for me. And between us we've sent Lestrangle to the track with a nice set of nerves."

His retreating footsteps died away to leave the noon hush unbroken. As Bailey, uncle and niece were left opposite each other, the crumpled newspaper where Lestrangle's name showed in heavy type lying on the floor between them.

The effect of Bailey's final sentence had been to leave Emily dizzied by apprehension. But when Mr. French rose and passed out, she aroused to look up at him eagerly.

"Uncle," she faltered. "Disregarding or unseeing her outstretched hand, he went on and left her there alone. And then Emily dared rescue the newspaper."

"A substitute," she whispered. "A substitute," and laid her wet cheek against the pictured driver.

Watch Your Kidneys

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor. J. W. Sharits, of Union City, says, "Over five years I suffered a great deal with my kidneys, having backache so severe that at times I suffered much misery while moving around. My kidney action was frequent, the kidneys being very weak and the secretions cloudy. In the morning on arising had dizzy spells and headaches. I was gradually growing worse when I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. In a short time the backaches left me and the kidneys became strong and their action natural. The headaches and dizziness all left, so that I again feel well and strong. Although 70 years old I am able to do a hard day's work without suffering and discomfort. This was all brought about by Foley Kidney Pills, which I gladly recommend." F. B. Johnson & Co.

FARM LANDS OF HOOSIER STATE

Important Details Furnished By Census Department.

GREAT INCREASE OF WEALTH

In the Past Decade the Value of Farm Property in Indiana Has Increased Nearly a Billion Dollars, or 84.9 Per Cent, Since the Report of 1900—This Despite Fact That Total Acreage of Farm Lands Decreased.

Indianapolis, Dec. 14.—Indiana ranks thirty-seventh in area and ninth in population among the states and territories of continental United States, according to a digest of the census returns just received here. It has passed out of the class of states that are adding materially to their total farm acreages, having in fact less land in farms in 1910 than it had in 1900.

The average value of the farm land per acre for the whole state is $62.36. In a group of four counties, just north of the center of the state, the average value of farm land is from $100 to $125 per acre. Clustered about the latter counties is a larger group in which the average value is between $75 and $100 per acre. In two counties on the outer edge of this area the average rises above $125 per acre. In most of the counties in the two northern tiers, and also in the greater number of counties in the western tier, the average value is between $50 and $75 per acre. Almost all the counties in which the average value is between $10 and $25 per acre are in the south central part of the state.

Progress During the Decade.

Between 1900 and 1910 there was an increase of over 184,000, or 7.3 per cent in the population of the state, but there was a decrease of 6,412 or 2.9 per cent in the number of farms, and a decrease of 319,800 acres, or 1.5 per cent, in the acreage of farm land. Since the relative decrease in number of farms was greater than that in farm land, the average size of farms increased, the increase amounting to 1.4 acres.

Farm property has increased in aggregate value during the decade $830,519,000, or 84.9 per cent. This great increase is made up of increases of $640,563,000 in the value of land, $111,277,000 in the value of buildings, and $77,979,000 in the value of farm equipment, which includes implements and machinery and live stock. About five-sixths of the increase in the value of farm equipment, or $64,309,000, represents a gain in the value of live stock and about one-sixth the increase in the value of implements and machinery. In considering the increase in values in agriculture the general increase in the prices of all commodities in the last ten years should be borne in mind.

There are 215,485 farms in Indiana. The average value of a farm with its equipment in 1900 was about $4,400, while ten years later it was about $8,400. The average value of land rose from $31.81 per acre in 1900 to $62.36 in 1910, or 96 per cent.

State's Wealth in Farm Lands.

The land surface of Indiana is approximately 23,068,800 acres. Of this area, 21,299,823 acres, or 92.3 per cent, are included in farms. Of the farm acreage, 16,931,252 acres, or 79.5 per cent, are reported as improved land, representing 73.4 per cent of the total land area of the state. During the last decade the total acreage of farm land decreased 1.5 per cent. The total wealth of the state in the form of farm property is $1,809,135,000, of which $8.1 per cent is represented by land and buildings, 2.3 per cent by implements and machinery, and 9.6 per cent by live stock. The relative gain (84.9 per cent) in the total value of farm property from 1900 to 1910 was greater than that during any other decade since 1860, while the absolute gain ($830,519,000) was more than three times as great as the largest increase reported for any other decade.

The average debt of mortgaged farms has increased in twenty years from $972 to $1,433, or 47.4 per cent, while the average value of such farms has risen from $3,209 to $6,282, or almost doubled, so that the owner's equity increased on the average from $2,237 to $4,849, or more than doubled. As a result of the greater relative increase in farm values than in farm debt, the mortgage indebtedness, which represented 30.3 per cent of the value of the farm in 1890, had decreased to 22.8 per cent of this value in 1910.

Two Held on Murder Charge.

Petersburg, Ind., Dec. 14.—Ford Grubb, thirty years old, and his mother, Sophronia Grubb, have been arrested on a grand jury indictment charging them with murder in the first degree. They are charged with having caused the death of William Grubb, husband of the woman, on the night of Dec. 2. The coroner pronounced death due to heart failure, but the prosecuting attorney declares he has evidence to the contrary.

Arm Cut Off by Train.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 14.—Ernest Sampson, aged twenty-two, jumped from a Vandavia freight train and fell with his right arm across the rail. It was cut off at the shoulder.

SOLDIER TELLS DYNAMITE TALE

Implicates Preacher In Series of Explosions.

FORT RILEY IS ALL WORKED UP

For Months the Military Authorities at That Post Have Been Kept in a State of Apprehension by a Series of Mysterious Explosions, and Now a Soldier Makes Confession Alleging Former Chaplain Was Responsible.

Junction City, Kan., Dec. 14.—In a confession of Private Michael Quirk, Rev. Charles M. Brewer, formerly a chaplain in the army, now the pastor of a Baptist church at Olustee, Okla., is accused of implication in a mysterious series of explosions which has kept the military authorities at Fort Riley in a state of apprehension nearly six months.

Quirk in a confession to Colonel E. D. Hoyle, Sixth field artillery, commandant at Fort Riley, said that he blew up the bridge across the Kaw river June 24; blew up the cavalry stable June 30, when twenty-seven cavalry horses were killed or burned to death, and also blew up the water main which supplies the army post with water.

Quirk declares in his confession that he committed these crimes at the instigation of Brewer, who sought revenge because he had been court-martialed and dismissed from the service for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

Quirk also implicated Mrs. Anna Jordan, wife of a convict in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth. Mrs. Jordan was arrested in Kansas City and brought here, and Brewer, according to information received by the United States commissioner here, was arrested at Olustee. A United States deputy marshal from Wichita, according to the commissioner, has gone to Olustee to bring Brewer here for arraignment.

Mrs. Jordan was arrested some time ago for aiding her husband to escape from the guardhouse at Fort Riley, where he was held on a charge of stealing. She smuggled revolvers to her husband, with which he held up the guard and escaped. He was recaptured the next day and now is in the military prison.

Friends of the Rev. Mr. Brewer here declare that there is no truth in Quirk's accusations so far as Brewer is concerned. They say he was not here when Quirk alleges he met the ex-chaplain and Mrs. Jordan in a motor car on the road between Junction City and Fort Riley. According to Quirk's story Brewer told him they were on the way to blow up the bridge and asked him to go along. Quirk said he placed the explosive which blew up the bridge. It was at Brewer's suggestion, also, he said, that he blew up the stable and the water main.

Quirk has been in the guardhouse at Fort Riley for nearly a month on suspicion that he was in some way connected with the series of fires and explosions which have kept nearly all the garrison on guard at night for the last five months. Yesterday he sent for Colonel Hoyle and made the confession. Officers in Olustee immediately were asked to arrest the clergyman, and the police in Kansas City Others, it was reported here, are implicated and more arrests probably will be made.

VICTORY FOR TURKS

A Charian Dispatch Carries Tale of Heavy Italian Losses.

London, Dec. 14.—The correspondent of the Express who is with the Turkish army telegraphs from Charian that the Turkish commander at Bengazi reports the defeat of the Italians, who lost 600 killed and many wounded. The Turks lost several killed and fourteen wounded. This, says the correspondent, more than balances the defeat of the Turks at Ain Zara. Two thousand natives of Fezzan, according to the correspondent, are on their way to Charian to join the Turks.

"THE HOME FOR SAVINGS"

1,229 white native farm owners, thirteen foreign-born white farm owners and sixteen negro and other non-white farm owners.

The statistics show there were 869 farms operated by tenants in 1910 and 837 in 1900. The per cent. of farms in the county run by tenants was 40.6 and in 1900, 36.9. In other words these statistics reveal that in the last ten years the tendency has been to renters and not to farm owners operating their farms. The statistics showing that the farm owners operating their farms were greater in 1900 than in 1910 support the same fact. This supports the popular theory that more farmers are retiring, moving to Rushville and renting or having their farms run by tenants.

Last year there were 621 share tenants in Rush county, 104 share-cash tenants, 116 cash tenants and in 28 cases the tenure was not specified. There were 855 native white tenants, 8 foreign-born white and 6 negro and other non-white.

Last year there were 16 farms operated by managers, and in 1900 46 were operated by managers. The land in farms operated by managers in 1910 amounted to 2,496, 1920 acres of it being improved and 576 acres unimproved. The value of land and buildings on farms of this class was $341,600.

Of all farms operated by owners in 1910, 824 were free from mortgage debt, 407 were mortgaged and 27 in regard to which no mortgage report was made. There were 255 farms owned on which the debt was reported and the value of their land and buildings were $2,955,240, the amount of mortgage debt was $660,057 and the per cent. of value of land and building was 22.3.

The third table in the statistical report gives farm expenses and principal crops during the year 1909 in the State by counties. On 1,396 farms reported in Rush county $263,994 were expended for labor during the year 1909. The rent and board furnished to farm laborers that year amounted to $67,973. On 774 farms reported in the county $142,218 were expended for feed in 1909 and in 1,081 farms reporting $57,343 were expended for fertilizer 1909.

In Rush county in 1909 80,287 acres were in corn which yielded 4,208,526 bushels; 5,679 acres were put in oats and yielded 137,437; 51,428 acres were put in wheat and yielded 722,545; 87 acres were put in rye which yielded 1,036 bushels; 5,042 bushels of clover seed were raised in the county during the year; 584 acres in potatoes which yielded 55,352 bushels; 24 acres in tobacco yielding 36,600 pounds; 23,999 acres total in hay and forage yielding 31,322 tons or better than a ton to an acre; 7,969 acres timothy alone yielding 10,469 tons; 7,183 acres in timothy and clover 9,314 tons; 6,927 acres in clover alone yielding 7,946 tons; 570 acres of other tame and cultivated grasses (exclusive of alfalfa) yielding 739 tons; 609 acres of coarse forage yielding 1,657 tons and 651 acres of all other hay and forage yielding 1,657 tons and 651 acres of all other hay and forage yielding 1,197 tons. No acreage of barley, wild, salt or prairie grass was reported from this county.
